IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENTS

Canada Announced Updates on Post Study Work Visa Rules

- University graduates will be eligible for up to 3 years of Post Study Work Permit while graduates from colleges will be eligible for a 3-year long PGWP if it falls in an area under high labour market demand list.

Australia's Capping Announcement, What Does it Mean for Students?

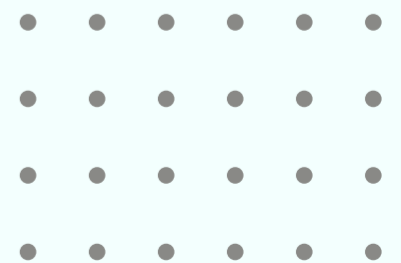

- Australian government has announced the much-awaited information on capping of international students in 2025.
- Good News! Capping doesn't mean decreased seats but, a better division of available seats across higher education institutions (HEIs).
- Under the new capping on enrolment numbers, some sought-after HEIs now have more seats for international students.
- This is a positive news as it would mean diverse class formation, enhanced learning experience and a better chance of getting accepted, all leading to desired graduate outcomes.

| SUCCESS STORY

VINOD SHARMA, INDIA

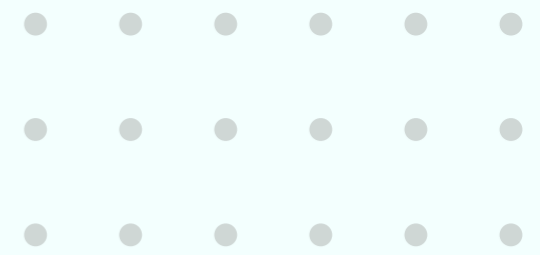

Country: New Zealand

University: University of Auckland

Course Name: Master of Management

The student's journey was full of challenges with limited funds, improper income proofs, lack of loan repayment capacity etc. The biggest challenge was that student's collateral loan was from a non-financial banking company- HDFC Credila which is not recommended by INZ.

Applicant received the visa grant against all odds with proper funds planning and presentation of case. Vinod received the Approval-in-principal within 15 days from the date of visa application lodgement followed by E-Visa. He is now a proud student University of Auckland, living his dream!
